

Joe's Tribeca Restaurant Reviews

Just want a quick coffee? Go to Kaffe, Cosmopolitan Café, or the smaller Starbucks on this list.

$ = Cheap (Under $9 sandwiches or entrees)

$$ = Medium ($10-$20 entrees)

$$$ = Expensive ($21-$26 entrees)

$$$$ = Very Expensive ($26 + entrees)

$$$$$ = You don't want to know

Josephine ($$) (Café)

40 Harrison St. (corner Greenwich)

A large, lovely-looking modern French café.

Highly recommended side salads, lattes, Chocolate Tortlette, Fluffy Raspberry Chocolate.

Peace and Love ($) (Café)

378 1/2 Greenwich St (and North Moore)

Tasty spanish-style sandwiches (on buns. Most have a garlicky mayo on the side. Good teas, coffees, and juices.

Ivy's Bistro ($$) (New American)

Highly recommended French fries, Chicken Parm Sandwich, Turkey Burger, Iced Tea Cocktail.

Kaffe 1668 ($) (Coffee)

275 Greenwich St (btw. Murray & Warren)

A medium-sized hip coffee shop with seating downstairs as well. Expensive gourmet coffee.

Their espresso is less good. They carry a few small sandwiches as well, else not much food.

Amish Market ($) (Mixed Cuisines)

53 Park Pl (btw Church St & Broadway)

If you want a large buffet variety of hot and cold lunch foods like Cucumbers with Dill and Feta, or Pesto Ravioli (both recommended), this is the place to go. The café is upstairs and the buffet is on the first level. You can also order food like sandwiches, but around 1:30pm the place is packed and these lines are longer.

Whole Foods ($) (Mixed Cuisines)

270 Greenwich Street (Warren St.)

Similar to the Amish Market in terms of buffet offerings. However, steer clear of all hot buffet items which are poorly maintained—the cold buffet is tasty. Seating is upstairs.

Cosmopolitan Café ($$) (French)

95 West Broadway (and Chambers)

A very small and pretty European-style café. The sandwich plates and lattes are recommended.

The Soda Shop ($$) (Café)

125 Chambers St (W. Broadway & Church)

A medium-sized, dark wood beautiful European-style café that feels private.

Highly recommended iced lattes. Recommended crepes. Avoid turkey chili.

Le Pain Quotidien ($$) (French/American)

81 W Broadway (btw. Warren St & Chambers St)

Recommended: Chicken Curry Sandwich, Chocolate-chip cookie, Quiche. Lattes are good but they put in a lot of milk. Many desserts!

V(iet) Café (Vietnamese and Bar) ($$)

345 Greenwich Street

Tasty items and drinks.

Mangez Avec Moi (Vietnamese) ($$)

This place has separate seating area and an adjoining take-away space.

Highly recommended $9 Banh Mi sandwiches.

Jerry's Café (Deli) ($$)

90 Chambers Street (Church and Broadway)

A relaxed deli-style restaurant.

Recommended: Tuna Sandwich, Grilled Chicken Sandwich, Shoestring Fries, Unsweetened Iced Tea.

Marc Forgione ($$$$) (New American)

134 Reade Street (and Hudson St.)

Styled like a high-end. $29-$36 entrees. Food quality is about 23/30 on the Zagat scale.

Nobu ($$$$) (Japanese)

105 Hudson Street

The world-famous Nobu.

Taj Tribeca ($$) (Indian)

18 Murray St. (btw Broadway and Church)

Open for lunch until 3pm. A highly rated restaurant at great prices.

Terroir ($$) (New American Wine Bar)

24 Harrison Street (Greenwich)

Exceptional food. Highly recommended lamb sausage and farro salad.

Sazon ($$) (Spanish Bar)

105 Reade Street

The cocktails here are amazing. The food items are not so good.

Corton ($$$$$) (French)

239 W. Broadway (Moore/Beach)

$76 fixed-price only. Very highly reviewed. 6 stars, TimeOut.

Starbucks (Café)

125 Chambers Street (and West Broadway)

A very small Starbucks.

Starbucks (Café)

120 Church Street (and Murray)

A larger Starbucks with substantial seating.
